New Brunswick, NJ – The Mary H. Dana Women Artists Series and Douglass Residential College's Women and Creativity House are pleased to announce the 2015 Women and Creativity House Student Exhibition. This group exhibition features artworks of 22 students who are in the Women and Creativity House Living-Learning Community in the Global Village at Douglass Residential College, Rutgers University. The exhibition will be on view from April 24 – May 4, 2015 in the Mary H. Women Artist Series Galleries at the Mabel Smith Douglass Library (8 Chapel Drive, New Brunswick, NJ 08901). Gallery hours are Monday through Friday from 9:30am to 4:30pm.

The focus of the Women and Creativity House Living-Learning Community is to de-mystify the creative process and encourage the development of themes and ideas through multiple vehicles of expression including visual art, performance, and creative writing. In this community, the topics of gender, sexuality, identity, creativity, and perception are explored and discussed through texts, films, lectures, and critiques. This exhibition highlights the self-portraits, digital collages, sculptures, video performances, and written works produced by the student artists during the course of the academic year, and is organized and co-curated by Stacy Scibelli (Learning Community Coordinator 2014-2015) and Gabriella Shypula (Women and the Arts Collaborative Intern).

There will be a showcase to celebrate the work of the Africana and Spanish Houses of the Global Village beginning at 7:15pm on Monday, April 27, 2015 in Traves Hall, Douglass Student Center (100 George Street, New Brunswick, NJ 08901). There will be a subsequent exhibition reception in honor of the Women and Creativity House students beginning at 8:30pm in the Mabel Smith Douglass Library (8 Chapel Drive, New Brunswick, NJ 08901). The exhibition and event is free and open to the public.

The Women and Creativity House Student Exhibition is sponsored by Douglass Residential College and the Women and the Arts Collaborative, a unit of the Office of Institutional Diversity and Inclusion, Rutgers University. The Mary H. Dana Women Artists Series is a program of the Women and the Arts Collaborative in partnership with Rutgers University Libraries, and is the oldest continuous running exhibition space in the United States dedicated to making visible the work of emerging and established contemporary women artists.
